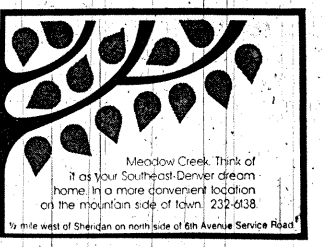
Mission Viejo director of operations, Tony Natali, left, and Aurora Mayor protem, William R. Dominquez, share the ground breaking responsibilities for the new South Branch of the Aurora Public Library to be built on land donated by Mission Viejo Corp. Library is first branch and was funded by bond issue. It will have a capacity of 55,000 books.



Meadow Creek. Think of it as your Southeast-Denver dream home, in a more convenient location on the mountain side of town. 232-6138.

½ mile west of Sheridan on north side of 6th Avenue Service Road.

WHEN YOU'RE TIRED OF "SWINGING" ON APARTMENT ROW, YOU'LL REALLY APPRECIATE OUR KIND OF "SQUARE."

It's quiet in Kipling Square. Because the apartments are nestled in a charming established neighborhood in central Lakewood. The loudest noise you're most likely to hear is a softball game on Sunday afternoon. You see, Kipling Square has been around for three years. (There are trees and grass to prove it.) Yet the Apartments are like new, having been completely refurbished inside and out. You'll live more comfortably in Kipling Square because there's room to live . . . 1,027 square feet of living space to be exact, with two bedrooms and two baths for privacy. Also covered patios or balconies, luxury carpeting, drapes, all electric kitchens, hot water heat, air conditioning, generous storage and closet space, off street parking, PLUS A SWIMMING POOL AND CLUB HOUSE. Now for the good part . . .

$225 a month with 3 months' lease, incl. heat.
(but you'll probably want to stay longer)

Come out where the air is clean and quiet, where there's grass and trees and a mountain view.

Lakewood/Green Mountain area. Take West 6th Avenue or West Alameda to Kipling, then South on Kipling to Kentucky, right to Miller St. and follow the signs.

NASHKO

Bring your 2nd car and a pair of old walking shoes

. . . that's what you'll need to drive the unpaved uneven roadway and climb around the construction debris. But it's worth it. People have been watching us for months . . . and getting impatient. You may be one of them. Anyway, we've given in to the pressure. We're opening up for you "early birds" on a limited basis. You won't see any finished models. But over 3 dozen homes are under construction (several sold already). We'll have our professional, salaried (low key) representatives on hand to answer your questions. If you're looking for a very special site, make the "discovery" yourself . . . at your leisure. The setting is ideal. The rolling hills countryside offers unusual mountain views, a variety of elevations and potentially creative landscaping.
Seven New England classic home designs; highest quality and custom features. Many different exteriors. All in a planned community close to Cherry Creek schools, the new Southglenn shopping center and many stop and shop conveniences.
