

Entertaining the thought...

The life of an executive wife is tougher than anyone realizes. Party planner, hostess, telephone, mail, errands, and more. You deserve a home that says "I like you and" respects the way you live. And, a community where the kids are "too busy to be bad".

We've wrapped it all up in the La Paz and Granada neighborhoods in Mission Viejo. The homes are designed with a remarkable blend of convenience and elegance... at realistic prices. The community doesn't promise... it delivers. and!

Residents have the opportunity to join the Mission Viejo Recreation Center, it is the most complete facility in the Denver area with indoor pool, cardiovascular equipment, racquet courts, Jacuzzi and sauna, night-lighted tennis courts, even an adult lounge... all with full-time professional management. Your children can walk to the new Mission Viejo Elementary School, it's practically next door. It's also in the Cherry Creek School District. Need we say more? Even neighborhood shopping and a library are coming soon.

Yes, you owe it to yourself to see our homes and our community. Champions are still making your life as an executive wife a lot easier.
