

er, the Hock Island
at Lincoln, Neb., owns a kind of
each man's house
we-up bank branch.
e Victorian depot in g, N.D., houses an
the woodworker,
me. Holzner, ane owner and stained in studio.

turns are available for returning abandoned
churches to a useful life,
but community effort has been aided by small grants from the American in the Beautiful Fund in Washington. Its director, Bruce Dowling, said it has had applications from cities groups in 41 states.

Witkin
A US Home Company

Weekdays and Sunday 10-7
Saturday 10-6
427-2015

Good for a limited time only.

history

(Continued from page 21)

Knowing this, I was surprised at the "low price" for the antique dolls — of which there is a very limited supply.

Mrs. Anderson said the prices of the antique dolls haven't crept up much in the last few years.

A better investment, if you're thinking of getting into antiques, could be miniature guns. From Farrow's antiques in St. Petersburg, Fla., were dozens of those — including a one-incher.

As with the other little guns, it was in its own handmade velvet lined case and came with ammunition and gun cleaning tools.

— The one-inch gun cost the dealer $2,800.

The guns, all of which were, cost from 2,000 to 3,200 hours to make. They were used as salaried men's samples or as prizes of the first work of a particular fowler.

Some of the miniature arms in the display, valued at $3 million, were found in graves of ancient Egyptians and Chinese.

Financing offered for singles

(Continued from page 90)

Mission Viejo is a total community concept undertaking with townhouses, single family units in a wide range of prices and duplex homes along with a complete shopping facility, a library and an elementary school in varying stages of completion.

Rocky Mountain News

Columb

The Helenick
From $42,500

Unique 2-story, cathedral living room enclosed by jalousie lobby, elevated living room, separate family room!
Kitchen combination with stone work feature. 3 baths. This is one of many exciting new home models to be seen at Columbian Knolls South.

Fi
Columbine Knolls South
designing your home to Rainier for about $40,000