

Viejo Company has nine models

"Miles' construction is scheduled to begin soon at Mission Viejo Company's new planned community in Agoura, according to Brad Williams, the company's project manager in Colorado. These models will be built, featuring extensive use of heavy wood exterior beams and distinctive architecture.

The new houses and attached homes will feature three bedrooms, two to three bathrooms, wide kitchen, formal dining room, finished challenge and large master bedroom suite.

Williams said that pricing for the first set of homes has been completed, and that water and sewer lines have been installed.

Construction also will get under way in May on the community's recreation center. Complete with an indoor competitive swimming pool, physical fitness center for men and women, and outdoor tennis courts, the center will be completed next July.

for use for the contract term when they move in later this year.

When model construction is under way, a temporary sales office will be open to provide information on the homes.
